under false papers identifying them as the sons of

During the height of racist anti-Chinese U.S. immigration laws, illegal aliens were able to come into the States under false papers, because of their false papers. Some rural towns in the Midwest were founded by

Immigrants and directly advertised in home Review of Wong, American Paper Son: A Chinese Immigrant in the Midwest. Different forms of chain migration in American history[edit] . These Chinese immigrants were called “paper sons,” because of their false papers. Some rural towns in the Midwest were founded by immigrants and directly advertised in home Review of Wong, American Paper Son: A Chinese Immigrant in the . During the height of racist anti-Chinese U.S. immigration laws, illegal aliens were able to come into the States under false papers identifying them as the sons of