The Jordan River flows through the land of Israel and into the Dead Sea. It is a geographical feature that has been significant throughout history. The river, which separates Jordan from Israel and Lebanon, played an important role in religious and political events. In the New Testament, Jesus was baptized by John the Baptist in the Jordan River. This event is described in Matthew 3:13-17, where it is recorded that Jesus went out from Nazareth in Galilee to the Jordan to be baptized by John. After Jesus was baptized, the heavens were opened, and the Holy Spirit descended upon him in the form of a dove. This event is significant because it marks the beginning of Jesus' public ministry and his role as the Messiah. It also marks the beginning of the Christian church, as believers were baptized in the name of Jesus and the Holy Spirit.
