Courtly Desire And Medieval Homophobia: The Legitimation Of Sexual Pleasure In Cleanness And Its Contexts

Elizabeth B Keiser

7AAEM646: Medieval Sex, Gender and Culture - King's College. Courtly Desire and Medieval Homophobia: The Legitimation of Sexual Pleasure in Cleanness and Its Contexts. pleasure and homoerotic impurity in a Courtly Desire and Medieval Homophobia - Cambridge Journals serves an indispensable purpose in the progressive elaboration of. curriculum vitae: robert s. sturges - Arizona State University 27 Mar 2013. In fact, Cleanness does not even stress that the only proper arena for erotic desire is the Keiser, Elizabeth B 1997 Courtly desire and medieval homophobia: the legiti...