Curriculum Planning For Social Studies Teaching: A Cross-cultural Approach

Craig Kissock

Curriculum planning for social studies teaching: a cross-cultural approach. This unit of learning explores the concepts of culture, identity, and diversity. It portrays an enterprising approach in social studies making learning real and resources – planning section of the New Zealand Curriculum website.