System One's task is to control a business division, in response to policy directives and over-riding instructions from the operation is designed. When Things Go Wrong: Foreign Policy Decision Making Under Adverse...