Southeast Asian Textiles: Indonesia's Exquisite Diversity

Claire Wilbur ; Steve Wilbur

These textiles are astounding in their diversity: from the ikats of Cambodia and Thailand, to the golden songket of Indonesia and Malaysia, to the Philippine pina silk reveals the stubborn and glorious survival of these exquisite textiles. Handweaving in Brunei, as in many other parts of Southeast Asia.