So you thought it’d be great to write your own wedding vows, but now a healthy dose of writer’s block (not to mention fear of embarrassing yourself) has hit you. Writing your own wedding vows can be a daunting task, but it’s not quite as hard as it looks. Here are six easy steps that you can follow to write your wedding vows:

1. Journaling: Spend time thinking about what you want to say and write it down.
2. Brainstorming: Write down all the things you want to include in your vows.
3. Drafting: Start writing your vows. Don’t worry about making them perfect; just get your ideas down on paper.
4. Revamping: Read your vows aloud and make any necessary changes.
5. Editing: Have a friend read your vows back to you and provide feedback.
6. Finalizing: Make any final changes and prepare to say them on your wedding day.
